Australia Faces Election Threat

CANBERRA (Reuters).—Australia's Labor Party today accepted a government challenge and adopted a course likely to entail dissolution of both Houses of Parliament and a general election.

The issue is a bill now in Parliament to dissolve the Communist Party. It is sponsored by the government—a coalition of Liberal and Country parties.

Prime Minister Robert Menzies threatened the Labor Opposition that if it carried out threats to amend the bill in the Senate, where Labor has a majority, he would advise the Governor-General to dissolve Parliament and would go to the country on the Communist issue.

The bill lays the onus of proof on the Crown only if the person "declared" Communist appeals and is prepared to give evidence on oath.

The Labor Party wants onus of proof to be on the Crown in all cases.

Today a Labor caucus decided to use its Senate majority to amend the bill, thereby preventing it from becoming law this session.

In effect, it is inviting the government to carry out its own threats—submit the bill again in all cases.

G.O.P. Aide To State Dept. Visits Japan

Dulles To Discuss MacArthur's Problems

TOKYO (AP)—John Foster Dulles flew into Japan today to discuss peace terms and general Asiatic economic and political problems with General MacArthur.

As he arrived, U.S. Defence Secretary Louis Johnson, concerned more with the other alternative to peace—war and defence—toured the once mighty Japanese naval base at Yokosuka.

Dulles, special adviser to the State Department, said upon his arrival from Korea:

"I am here because the United States government has some positive ideas it wants to carry out."

He added, after being greeted at the airport by General MacArthur, that he will "consider all phases" of the peace issue.

Dulles said he, Secretary Johnson, Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and General MacArthur all "are working in a co-operative spirit and we will look for results."

A separate peace treaty with Japan, excluding Russia and Red China, is being urged by many Japanese and some allied quarters.

MacArthur is expected to tell Dulles the Japanese have earned some form of a peace settlement and that the present government would be willing to grant the U.S. military bases considered necessary by American strategists.

Six European Countries In Secret Pact Parley

PARIS (AP)—Six countries of Western Europe began secret talks today to plan exactly what they will do to merge their coal and steel industries.

The governments of France, Western Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg must decide on the powers to be delegated to a new international authority to supervise the merger.

Britain, objecting to a French proposal to give the international group final authority, has declined to participate. But, the French Foreign Office will inform Britain of the progress of negotiations.

Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France, who first proposed the coal-steel merger May 9, keynoted the talks in a 10-minute open session Tuesday, expressing his confidence in success.

"We feel that we are not allowed to fail, to abandon the task without finishing it," Schuman said.

In London, meanwhile, Conservatives and Liberals in their first parliamentary coalition since the general election in February, demanded by joint motion in the House of Commons Tuesday that Britain enter the Paris talks.

All six countries meeting here have agreed to the principle that surrendering some of their sovereignty to the international board may prevent war through improving living conditions.

France's master economic planner, Jean Monnet, has a working treaty draft ready. It provides for a "supra-national" authority even more powerful than the national governments in dealing with coal and steel.

Two Edmonton Children Meet Violent Deaths

EDMONTON (CP)—A 13-year-old Edmonton schoolgirl died of a broken neck Tuesday as she attempted to crawl through a window of her locked home. The window slammed down on Marilyn Franklin's neck as she leaned over the sill.

Her violent death was the second within five hours involving a city school child. Nine-year-old Ralph Haig was killed when his bicycle was in collision with a gravel truck.

All-Night Fight Fails To Hold Harrison Dikes

VANCOUVER (CP)—Engineers said the flood crest of the Fraser River would surge down on New Westminster district today and told dike-defenders along the Fraser Valley the end of the flood menace was in sight.

J. D. McLeod, a member of the Water Resources Board, said he was confident the crest would come before nightfall "and I think it will be about 24 1/2 feet."

McLeod said the Fraser would start going down tonight at New Westminster as it carried the late mountain run-off out to the Pacific Ocean.

At Mission Tuesday night, the river dropped two inches.

The cheerful prediction came as the total of flood refugees neared the 2,500 mark and the situation was reported critical at Harrison Hot Springs, resort centre 70 miles from here.

A 400-foot break in the five-mile dike at the spa had been partially mended by soldiers and volunteers, but water still poured through the breach. Balls of hay, chicken wire and tons of earth, gravel and sand were thrown into the hole. Trucks were sent from Vancouver to help.

Constable Malcolm Matheson of the B.C. police Sooke detachment, said the forestry department men who fought the blaze "did a fine job of saving adjacent resort cabins and controlling the fire which set fire to nearby trees."

"Everybody pitched in to help put out the fire, including male and female guests," said the constable.

Forestry men were on the job during the night to watch for further outbreaks. Const. Matheson said timber, some of which had to be felled to prevent a spread, was still burning at 2 this morning.

Guests saved some personal belongings. A few pieces of furniture and cars were saved from the flames.

Two more dikes broke Tuesday at Pitt, 20 miles east of Vancouver, flooding 8,000 acres of land.

A force of 200 soldiers and about 1,200 volunteers were mending the valley's 250-mile dike system as the crest of the Fraser River advanced westward.

The Doukhobor community of Claybrick in eastern British Columbia was under two feet of water from the flooding Slocan River. Most of the Doukhobors had fled their frame shacks.

Twenty rivers throughout the province were bursting their banks. A dozen of them were tributaries of the 695-mile Fraser River.

NEW NICKEL DESIGN OKAYED

OTTAWA (CP)—Stephen Trenka of Green Lane, Thornhill, Ont., today was named winner of the design competition for a new Canadian five-cent piece.

Finance Minister Abbott announced today that Mr. Trenka's design had been accepted for the new coin which will commemorate the 200th anniversary of the isolation of nickel.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's views. If MacArthur strongly favors strengthening Formosa's defences and if this is reflected formally in some new decision of the joint chiefs of staff, the pressure on the administration to change its attitude will be great.

The administration has completely written off the Chiang government. But reports now reaching official Washington are that Chiang has taken steps to strengthen Formosa's defences and improve its administration.

B.C.'s 9-Point Program Proposed For Dominion-Provincial Talk Presented

OTTAWA (BUP)—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent indicated strongly in Parliament today that Canada's civilian defence problems would be discussed at the Dominion-Provincial Conference in Ottawa this fall.

The Prime Minister gave the indication after he had presented Commons with a letter from Premier Byron Johnson of British Columbia suggesting nine specific subjects for discussion at the conference.

Mr. St. Laurent did not comment on Premier Johnson's proposals. But he replied to a question by the acting opposition leader in Parliament, Gordon Graydon (P.C.-Peel). Mr. Graydon asked if civilian defence would be discussed in view of the tense international situation.

The Prime Minister said general topics would be discussed at the conference. This, he said, would include discussion of all "responsibilities" shared by the Dominion government and the provinces.

VIEWERS INVITED

Mr. Johnson's suggestions were in reply to a federal request to the province to outline topics for the conference agenda. The government said the conference was being held "to discuss general questions of common concern to the provincial and federal governments."

Johnson's two main suggestions were that the conference should discuss the introduction of a contributory system of old age security and the establishment of National Health Insurance.

His nine points were:

1. Responsibility for unemployed and the financing of unemployment assistance.
2. Responsibility for employment.
3. Responsibility for old age pensions; revision of the present pension system and introduction of a contributory plan.
4. A review of all health services, including federal health grants to the provinces; establishment of a system of health insurance, and federal participation in hospital and health insurance plans.

5. Government measures to facilitate private investment and employment.

6. Public investment policies covering federal, provincial and municipal plans and projects and joint plans.

7. Conservation and development of natural resources with federal participation in their financing.

8. A review of existing financial arrangements under the Dominion-provincial tax rental agreements which expire March 31, 1952, and consideration of terms for renewal.

9. Clarification of provincial taxation powers.

Johnson said the most important matter of common concern was the establishment of a working relationship between federal and provincial governments which would make possible more effective promotion of general welfare.

Mr. Trenka will receive first prize of $1,000. His design is a representation of a nickel refinery with "Canada" at the top, "nickel" and the figures "1751-1951" at the upper left and the

The coin will be 12-sided as at present and this particular design will be minted in 1951 only. Four other Canadians won honorable mention and prizes of $250 each.

Norman D. Storey, Toronto, with a Canada goose design; Charles F. Cornfort, Toronto, a cluster of maple seed pods; Fritz Brandtner, Montreal, head of grain design; Steven Meyer, Montreal, in collaboration with Sydney Massart, Montreal, Nickel mine design.

Election Soon May Be Held In Australia

Fate Of Anti-Red Bill Will Decide

CANBERRA (Reuter)—Australia's Labor Party today accepted a government challenge and adopted a course likely to entail dissolution of both Houses of Parliament and a general election.

The issue is a bill now in Parliament to dissolve the Communist Party. It is sponsored by the government—a coalition of Liberal and Country parties.

Prime Minister Robert Menzies threatened the Labor Opposition that if it carried out threats to amend the bill in the Senate, where Labor has a majority, he would advise the Governor-General to dissolve Parliament and would go to the country on the Communist issue.

The bill lays the onus of proof on the Crown only if the person "declared" Communist appeals and is prepared to give evidence on oath.

The Labor Party wants onus of proof to be on the Crown in all cases.

Today a Labor caucus decided to use its Senate majority to amend the bill, thereby preventing it from becoming law this session.

In effect, it is inviting the government to carry out its own threats—submit the bill again in its present form at the next session, have it again amended by the Senate and then have Parliament dissolved and an election fought on the onus-of-proof question.

Britain Backs China's Reds For U.N. Seat

LONDON (AP)—The British government today was reported shaping plans to take an active role in the campaign to oust the Nationalist Chinese and seat Red China in the United Nations.

The campaign is headed by U.N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie as a "common sense" means of getting Russia to end the boycott she has clamped on 30 U.N. organizations in anger over the China representation question.

Lie announced at Lake Success Tuesday night he would return to Europe to make a speech July 3 in London and to visit the summer sessions of the Economic and Social Council in Geneva.

The decision on Britain's new policy may emerge at the Geneva meeting if Russia or her satellites again challenge the right of the Nationalists to sit for China.

In the past Britain has abstained in votes on the China question although the British recognized the Red regime at Peking last January after severing relations with Chiang Kai-shek.

Red China was held off from exchanging diplomats with Britain and prodded the British to help along the Russian-led project to get the Chinese Communist delegates into the U.N.

Britain has approached Egypt, Ecuador and France on the China question, but got no commitments. The French position is complicated by the anti-Communist campaign in Indo-China. The United States has announced it will not try to veto a majority decision.

British policy-makers now are siding with Lie's contention that the Communists are the actual rulers of the China mainland and will be universally recognized in that role eventually.

LUMBER SUBSTITUTES IN BUILDINGS URGED

The city building department will employ all the substitutes for lumber possible in any of its construction work in order to avoid increased costs due to the boost in lumber prices.

This announcement was made today by J. W. Oosterink, city building inspector.

The department was considering use of pumice stone for the new James Bay fire hall, since the costs with the stone or lumber were approximately the same. Since the number increase, however, the stone will be less costly.

"It will provide far better fire protection, too, and since it is a fire hall, an example should be set," said Mr. Oosterink.

He advocated use of outside gyproc rather than shiplap in some types of construction.

49 FOREST FIRES BURNING OVER B.C.

213 Men Engaged In Fighting Outbreaks; Forestry Officials Say Hazard Moderate

Throughout the province today 49 forest fires were burning and 213 men are engaged in fighting them, the B.C. Forest Service reported.

In the Vancouver Forest District, worst fire is under control in the Salmon River Logging Company operations covering 100 acres.

It started Tuesday afternoon, and destroyed 1,500,000 feet of logs in a cold deck pile and swept over 1,500,000 feet of felled and bucked timber. Fire destroyed one cold deck machine and two sets of skylines. Sixty men are engaged in mopping-up operations.

In the same district on the island, three men are patrolling a small fire at Goldstream Lake and the same number are doing a like job near Rocque Cove.

Four fires were going in the Prince Rupert District, 14 men on the job. All are under control. Prince George area has 18 fires going. Eighty-five men are battling them. Eleven are under control but there is no information on the others.

Sixteen fires are burning in the Kamloops District and 45 men are fighting them. One 50-acre blaze in the Merritt area is under control; a blaze of the same dimensions is not yet under control in the vicinity of Spence's Bridge. Fire is going on rocky mountainside and the department does not expect any serious trouble. All other fires in the Kamloops District are under control.

Nelson Forest District has eight fires going and under control, 14 men employed.

"The fire hazard is moderate all over the province, but is increasing, the Forest Service officials said.

Violent Acts Seen In Milk, Rayon Strikes

By United Press

Violence broke out in Pittsburgh's milk strike today and shots were exchanged in the turbulent American Enka rayon walkout at Morristown, Tenn.

An Enka official said three cars filled with non-strikers were fired upon from ambush shortly after midnight, but no one was wounded.

A filling station operator who was taking his wife home from work at the plant drew a pistol and returned the fire.

At Pittsburgh, state police reported that two independent dairy trucks were dumped early today and the driver of one was dragged from the cab and beaten by eight men.

Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh, scheduled to resume conferences with striking A.F.L. milkmen and dairy firms late today, said the disputants are "not so far apart" and hinted settlement might be near.

Crest Likely To Reach Coast Area By Tonight

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—Another dike has broken in the Fraser Valley as engineers said the flood crest of the Fraser River surged down to the sea at Vancouver today.

Dike-defenders along the valley stretching 100 miles to the east of Vancouver were told the end of the flood menace was in sight.

A dike on the North Alouette River, a Fraser tributary near Hammond, B.C., 20 miles east of Vancouver, collapsed, sending floodwaters spilling over 1,200 acres of pastureland. The break in the six-mile clay dike was caused when a portion of it settled, Pitt Meadows municipal clerk, W. Thompson, said.

Level of the Fraser at Mission was 24.12 feet this morning, where the flood level is 20 feet. J. D. McLeod, a member of the Water Resources Board, said he was confident the crest would come before nightfall "and I think it will be about 24½ feet."

McLeod said the Fraser would start going down tonight at New Westminster as it carried the late mountain run-off out to the Pacific Ocean.

At Mission Tuesday night, the river dropped two inches.

The cheerful prediction came as the total of flood refugees neared the 2,500 mark and the situation was reported critical at Harrison Hot Springs, resort centre 70 miles from here.

A 400-foot break in the five-mile dike at the spa had been partially mended by soldiers and volunteers, but water still poured through the breach. Balls of hay, chicken wire and tons of earth, gravel and sand were thrown into the hole. Trucks were sent from Vancouver to help.

900 Acres Of Idaho Farms Under Water

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—One of the Kootenai River's major dikes went out with a roar early today. Flood water rolled over 900 acres of northern Idaho farm land behind the broken wall.

Another emergency dike holding back the flood from a small settlement north of Bonners Ferry, Idaho, gave way before the heavy pressure. It had been leaking badly. Residents of 17 homes in the district were evacuated earlier.

The Kootenai is nearing the record heights of the 1948 flood.

An estimated 1,500 acres are under water. The river was splashing at the dike tops along 30,000 acres of farm land in the valley. Other dikes, most of them soggy and leaking badly, were expected to go out.

The Kootenai was rising its entire length.

Bonners Ferry itself is protected by dikes four feet higher than the current river level.

There were no casualties reported from the break today. The flood fatality count now totals one in British Columbia and four in Washington state.

No Family Addition

CALLANDER, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. Olivia Dionne, mother of the quintuplets, today denied reports she is expecting another child. One rumor was that X-rays had indicated Mrs. Dionne would become the mother of triplets. She said she is expecting either triplets or a single birth.

Flood News Discounted By Premier After Tour

Premier Byron Johnson, back in his office at the Legislative Buildings after another tour of Fraser Valley dikes, today reiterated flooding of the river is not as serious as some reports have stated.

He said the dikes, reconstructed after the disastrous 1948 floods, are holding still and "not one acre of land under water two years ago is flooded."

There was some seepage through sections of the new dikes, but this was expected.

"And," said the Premier, "the new dikes allow speedy repair work because they are wide and strong enough to carry trucks hauling gravel."

Mr. Johnson was upset over reports of mass evacuations from the valley and of serious damage.

A break in a dike at Pitt Meadows, outside the Fraser Valley Diking System, had resulted in flooding but only of a duck-hunting district.

Flooding at Harrison Hot Springs was not caused by dike trouble but by rising lake water. Damage had been done, the Premier agreed, but only to property in front of the dikes.

Mr. Johnson had not declared a state of emergency at Harrison but has asked Red Cross workers to stand by.

He also called on the army merely as a precaution in the event of disastrous flooding.

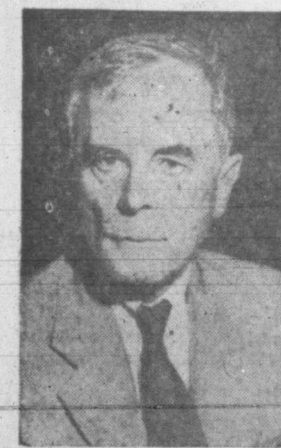

"I don't want to tempt providence," he said, "but the way it looks right now, the new Fraser Valley dikes will prevent serious flooding this year."

5-Year Contract Signed By Union

General Motors Employees Set Precedent By Long-Term Pact

TORONTO (CP)—An agreement, unprecedented in Canada because of its five-year term, was signed Tuesday night between General Motors Corporation of Canada and the United Auto Workers' Union (C.I.O.). The contract provides wage increases, a $5 monthly pension at age 65, and welfare benefits.

Some 6,500 unionists in the company's plants at Oshawa and Windsor are affected. The contract comes before a union meeting today at Oshawa for approval.

Following 90 hours of almost continuous bargaining sessions, the company and union announced signing of the agreement. Both sides called in top negotiators from Detroit before settlement was reached.

William A. Wecker, G.M. president and general manager, said: "We look forward to a period of five years without work interruptions. The settlement should mean facing the future with confidence."

George Burt, Canadian director of the U.A.W., said: "Although the agreement is to run for five years it includes factors guaranteed to safeguard the welfare of the workers automatically each year."

The agreement provides an annual increase of 3 cents an hour, effective immediately. The union estimates that the wage increase and other clauses mean an increase of 14 cents an hour for the first year, climbing to more than 26 cents at the end of five years.

WAGE BASES VARY

No general basic-wage figure could be obtained owing to the differing work classifications. The new contract also provides:

1. Hours of work are to be progressively reduced from 44 to 40 a week over five years.
2. Increased life insurance, accident and sickness benefits are provided under the company plan at no additional cost to employees. The company will share

National Health Scheme Expected Before Parley

Health Minister Martin Says Insurance May Be Discussed By Dominion, Provinces

OTTAWA (CP)—Health Minister Martin told the Commons Tuesday the long-debated question of a national health insurance program is expected to come before the forthcoming Dominion-Provincial Conference.

At least one province, he disclosed during study of his departmental estimates, has asked that the question be placed on the agenda.

In the operation of such a plan, he said, he did not believe anything should be done that would interfere with the traditional doctor-patient relationship as it is known in Canada.

Replying to opposition requests for federal aid for incurables and incapacitated persons, the minister disclosed that the provinces are launching—at federal expense—a "sickness survey" to determine the number of incurables in Canada and the number of persons earning no income. This would provide the basis for an intelligent approach to the problem.

Opposition speakers coupled requests for greater federal aid in health fields with criticism of the government's expenditures on publicity, information services and traveling.

Mr. Martin promised to consider a suggestion by Ross Thatcher (C.C.F.-Moose Jaw) that federal health grants to the provinces be increased and put on a more liberal basis.

Mr. Thatcher suggested that the grants, which now go to provide for hospital beds, should be extended to cover provision of laboratory services, operation rooms, X-ray equipment and dietary kitchens. The Dominion should also pay one-third of new hospital construction.

Dr. W. G. Blair (P.C.-Lanark), Progressive Conservative medical critic, urged the government to finance more research into the causes of cancer, infantile paralysis, heart disease and other ailments. Policies should be directed to making treatment available to all.

NOT RENT COLLECTORS

Land Department Job, Says Welfare Chairman

The city welfare committee will not be a rent collecting agency if Ald. Mrs. Margaret Christie, chairman, has anything to do with it.

The question arose at City Council meeting Tuesday, following request of Citizens' Rehabilitation Council for release of certain buildings at Gordon Head.

Mayor Percy George suggested that the council not decide immediately on release since the social service department had a problem with regard to Tye Camp and there might be a possible use for Gordon Head in the picture.

The lands and zoning committee were to collect rents from tenants at Tye Camp but according to Mrs. Christie rents had been collected very spasmodically. While she was in Vancouver, she said the question of rent collecting was thrust on her welfare committee.

Ald. William Pinfold explained the change was made since he understood Tye Camp was already in the hands of the welfare committee from the social service angle.

Mayor George and Ald. Waldo Skillings stated rent collecting was the job of the city lands department under the lands and zoning committee and the matter was referred to the latter for report.

A recommendation from the Town Planning Commission that request for a change of zoning from single-family to apartment property on the south side of Gorge Road between Washington and Tims Streets be granted was referred to lands and zoning.

Reduce Baby's Price For Sale At $2,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Story of a baby bought for $100, offered for sale at $2,000 and then marked down to $1,750, was told in court Monday.

The story was told at the trial of Irwin Slater, 38, Harry Wolfson, 37, both lawyers, and Mrs. Bess Bernard, 44, on charges of violating the state baby-placement law.

The witnesses' names all are being withheld by order of the court.

A 23-year-old Brooklyn woman said she and her mother had arranged with Slater to place her five-month-old child for adoption.

Slater and Wolfson visited her, had her sign a consent paper, and took the baby. The following day, she said, Slater returned, she signed more papers, and he gave her $100.

Another Brooklyn woman testified Slater agreed to sell an infant girl, for which he was asking $2,000, to her for $1,750.

The infant was suffering from malnutrition and rickets, according to a doctor's report, she said.

NEAR DECISION ON SEAWAY

Final Argument On St. Lawrence Power Project Scheduled Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Final arguments were scheduled today before the United States Power Commission on New York state's proposal to develop, with the province of Ontario, the huge power potential of the St. Lawrence River.

The proposal, which has been before the commission for nearly two years, was initiated by Governor Thomas E. Dewey after the U.S. Senate refused early in 1948 to approve legislation that would have authorized construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway and its related power project.

Dewey said, in effect, that as long as Congress refuses to approve the dual St. Lawrence project, it is up to New York and Ontario to do everything possible to develop the river's power potential on their own.

Engineers estimate the St. Lawrence, in the vicinity of Massena, N.Y., and Cornwall, Ont., can produce annually more than 13,000,000 kilowatt hours of energy.

Testimony given at an earlier commission hearing showed that the power development would cost New York and Ontario $463,374,000.

Following the hearing, Glenn R. Law, the commission examiner, recommended that the application be rejected and that the matter be referred to Congress with a suggestion that the federal government develop the water resources.

The commission counsel took the opposite stand. He recommended New York be granted the license.

The commission's legal staff contends that New York, by developing the power now, would save the government $100,000,000 to $200,000,000, because some of the construction would aid "and in no wise hinder" the further development of the river for navigation (seaway) purposes.

Assuming that the commission would approve the New York application, further approval must come from the international joint commission, which regulates uses of boundary waters.

IN DESPAIR ABOUT CAREER

Judy Garland's Future Rouses Much Speculation

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Little girl, what now?

That was the question on Hollywood's lips today as it recovered from the news that Judy Garland, a child star who lost none of her lustre with maturity, had cut her throat in a fit of despair over her career.

Miss Garland's studio, M-G-M, suspended her last Saturday after she had failed to show up for a rehearsal with Fred Astaire.

Monday night, during a conference about her problems with her husband and advisers, she ran into a bathroom and slashed her throat with a broken glass. Her doctor said the wound is superficial.

Some say this means that the star, who also has had marital and health troubles recently, is washed up at 28. Others contend that M-G-M would never cut adrift an actress whose recent films have grossed about $5,000,000 each.

Since May, 1949, Judy has been receiving treatment for a nervous condition. In addition, she has had to combat a tendency toward plumpness.

Judy has frequently said she wants to continue her career. Her studio considers her one of its biggest attractions. Yet it has replaced her in three films in two years because she "caused us embarrassment, delay, inconvenience and loss of morale among co-workers."

Her violent death was the second within five hours involving a city school child. Nine-year-old Ralph Haig was killed when his bicycle was in collision with a gravel truck.

International Crime Figure Dies In U.S.

ATTICA, N.Y. (AP)—"Dapper Don Collins," a suave international crook in prohibition days in the United States, went to a prison grave today — unless someone from his gaudy past claims his body.

"Dapper Don" died of a heart ailment Sunday in state prison here. He was 70.

As a young man, he made one try at an honest living. He rode a bicycle in a cage full of lions.

Then he went to New York City and began a "career" highlighted by escapades involving charges of swindling, smuggling, blackmail and just plain stealing.

A fortune slipped through his fingers when he was dodging detectives on both sides of the Atlantic—not always successfully. He served seven prison terms between 1908 and 1939.

In his heyday as a trans-Atlantic smuggler, "Dapper Don" lived high. But by 1939 he had sunk to cheap swindling and drew 15 to 30 years for stealing $200.

G.O.P. Aide To State Dept. Visits Japan

Dulles To Discuss MacArthur's Problems

TOKYO (AP)—John Foster Dulles flew into Japan today to discuss peace terms and general Asiatic economic and political problems with General MacArthur.

As he arrived, U.S. Defence Secretary Louis Johnson, concerned more with the other alternative to peace—war and defence—toured the once mighty Japanese naval base at Yokosuka.

Dulles, special adviser to the State Department, said upon his arrival from Korea:

"I am here because the United States government has some positive ideas it wants to carry out."

He added, after being greeted at the airport by General MacArthur, that he will "consider all phases" of the peace issue.

Dulles said he, Secretary Johnson, Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and General MacArthur all "are working in a co-operative spirit and we will look for results."

A separate peace treaty with Japan, excluding Russia and Red China, is being urged by many Japanese and some allied quarters.

MacArthur is expected to tell Dulles the Japanese have earned some form of a peace settlement and that the present government would be willing to grant the U.S. military bases considered necessary by American strategists.

Bahri said the bones of the girl had been buried near Eskisehir, southeast of this town in northwest Turkey. Police are going to the spot with Bahri to look for the girl's remains.

Vancouver Has Plan To Solve Gang Problem

VANCOUVER (CP)—Preparation to solve the city's juvenile delinquency problem, was outlined by Mayor Charles E. Thompson in a speech to some 150 delegates to the annual convention of the Canadian Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Mayor Thompson said his committee on youth services had done much in the last few weeks to curb juvenile delinquency here. He praised both the city police chief and the police youth guidance detail for accomplishing "most of the work."

"Social education for our youth is every bit as important as academic studies," he said. The attention of youngsters would have to be directed towards worthwhile efforts during their adolescent period.

Mayor Thompson charged lack of both responsibility and correct home life was one of the main causes for recent delinquency trouble.

Question Of U.S. Help For Formosa Wide Open

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sweeping reviews of U.S. foreign policy under way in Washington and Tokyo have torn wide open the dispute on whether the United States should help Chiang Kai-shek defend Formosa.

Several factors apparently will enter in the final U.S. attitude toward Formosa. Perhaps the most important of these will be Gen. Douglas MacArthur's views.

If MacArthur strongly favors strengthening Formosa's defenses—and if this is reflected formally in some new decision of the joint chiefs of staff, the pressure on the administration to change its attitude will be great. The administration has com-

Dollars And Homes

FORTY-EIGHT HOURS AGO THE retail price of lumber used in the construction of homes and other buildings stood at $70 per thousand board feet. Today the price is $96—or an increase of $26 on a commodity that not many years ago retailed at about $22. Local operators announce that the recent settlement between the employers and members of the International Woodworkers of America had nothing whatsoever to do with this extraordinary boost in the sale price of a basic material. Nor is there any reason to doubt the accuracy of that statement. The magnet provided by the demand of the United States market evidently is irresistible. Our neighbor apparently will take every thousand feet of lumber people are in the mood to sell. Canadian producers are obviously ready to export as much as possible because they can get such high prices for their product on the southern side of the 49th parallel.

Complaints of would-be purchasers of lumber for local building purposes will be countered by the reminder that one of Canada's most pressing financial needs is a larger and larger supply of American dollars. The official plea from Ottawa to the United States for many months past has been that our neighbors buy more and more Canadian goods in order that the trading balance against this country might be substantially reduced. Not so very many years ago, before the dollar soared to the top of the international exchange heap, Canada's excess of purchases from her neighbor to the south was more than made up for by large credits accruing each year in her trade with the United Kingdom.

This no longer holds good. In two months of this year, for example, Britain was able to pay for her purchases from this country without dipping into her supply of dollars. There was no imbalance in the exchange. The picture has now changed in our favor because of some large shipments of wheat. But the old order of Canada selling 60 much more to the United Kingdom than she bought is a condition which belongs to the past.

And as far as our lumber people are concerned, they will probably point to the emphatic exhortation to Canadian exporters in general in a speech which Mr. Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, delivered in St. John's, Newfoundland, on Monday. He enjoined Canadians to "a dot for the United States market" because the solution of the Dominion's foreign exchange problem "must come in part from an increase" in her sales of raw and manufactured products to the neighboring republic.

All the foregoing is obviously true. But the fact remains that every would-be home builder in Victoria who shells out $96 a thousand board feet for his lumber is actually paying $26 more than he might be paying because the exporter is dead set on getting out of his sales all the traffic will bear. Nor can the latter be blamed for doing so. And only if some form of restraint shall be placed upon him by official decree—a proceeding not at all likely—can any obstacle be placed in his way. So much for the relationship between the Canadian exporter and the American importer. What is worrying most people, however, is what is going to happen to the home-construction business in Victoria and elsewhere in this province. The price of a modest bungalow has soared out of all proportion in the last year or so. It will now leap beyond the reach of many. And to add a little more grimness to the present picture is the new demand for wage increases from the carpenters.

In other words, while commercial construction may not be seriously affected by the lumber price boost, because of the heavier percentage of masonry which enters into projects coming within that category, the prospect of a complete halt in home building needs no special emphasis. Such a condition would spell heavy losses to those industries whose products are needed for a modern house with, of course, the natural corollary of enforced idleness for many skilled workers. The general picture, then, is not a pleasant one to contemplate.

'I Am A Canadian Citizen'

ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON AT Beacon Hill Park four important local organizations will sponsor ceremonies to celebrate "I am a Canadian Citizen's Day." The occasion merits special attention. It should attract all those who have come to our shores in the last few years and who have had extended to them the status of citizenship. In addition, it might bring home to a number of native-born Canadians some of the privileges and responsibilities which are theirs automatically.

The sponsors, the Local Council of Women, Women's Canadian Club, Canadian Daughters' League and Native Sons of Canada, have arranged an attractive program for the afternoon which should prove an impressive means of emphasizing the various ingredients which go into good citizenship. It should, moreover, underscore the increasingly important position Canada is taking in world affairs. It is to be hoped that the affair will be well attended, and that the day may persuade those who are unable to be present at the function to spare some time to count their blessings—blessings which are theirs because they are Canadians. It is too easy, when living conditions in any country are pleasant, to take benefits as a matter of course—to regard them as automatic rights which the accident of birth or the short court ceremony of naturalization provides. That is shallow thinking.

Some of the advantages we enjoy in this country do arise from conditions to the creation of which we contribute little. Our land is naturally wealthy. In various parts of the country climate makes living agreeable. Those circumstances, however, represent but a part of the richness of life which is ours. Here we have opportunity, and a democratic system which encourages our people to take advantage of it. Here we have freedom and the right to exercise it, subject to consideration for others. Our institutions are those of a country which honors and respects the individual.

It is up to us, not just once a year but continuously, to keep these matters in mind, to realize that for every right we have a responsibility. It is up to us to see that we shoulder those responsibilities, and make them known to people newly come to our shores. It is up to us to give more than lip-service to our ideals. As we honor our obligations in these respects, we make meaningful to all people the pride with which we say "I am a Canadian citizen." It is that spirit which should prevail on Sunday.

Nippon Communist Tactics Evoke Strong Measures In Retaliation

By BRUCE BLOSSAT From New York

AT VARIOUS times in his long career as a soldier, Gen. Douglas MacArthur has been the object of criticism. The general more than once has been charged with being "autocratic," with "treating on basic human rights."

This isn't the place to weigh the justice of these accusations. They may or may not be well-founded. But certain it is that MacArthur is a man who knows how to handle Communists. His methods seem remarkably suited to that annoying but necessary task.

POINTED INSTRUCTION

As Allied commander in occupied Japan he is currently engaged in giving the Communists there some pointed instructions in how not to behave.

On Memorial Day Jap Reds sparked the first violence against American occupation troops since the war ended. Men were beaten, kicked and stoned. MacArthur promptly ordered a military trial for eight Communists accused of these acts, and they were convicted.

Reds in Japan called for a general strike in protest against the trial but it flopped. Nevertheless it was apparent the Communists were bent on pursuing a more militant program of trouble-making than heretofore.

The general did not view this as a time to walk softly. He ordered that all 24 members of the Communist Central Committee in Japan be expelled from public office. Later he purged 17 key men on the party's newspaper, Red Flag.

One of the 17 was a member of an eight-man group the Reds had picked up to supplant the 24-member Central Committee. This MacArthur kept the Communists from regaining their balance.

To the Japanese government acting under control of allied authority, he handed down an edict directing that it co-operate in executing his ban.

His letter to Prime Minister Yoshida was blunt. He called the paper a mouthpiece for the most violent elements in the Communist Party, adding that it was guilty of false and inflammatory appeals in its effort to provoke defiance of the constituted government.

Measures so severe as MacArthur's could not be excused were the Communists a legitimate political party in a nation we are trying to teach the ways of democracy. But the Reds are essentially a branch of the Russian government—a weapon of Soviet foreign policy.

DESTRUCTIVE ELEMENT

As such, they are a destructive element on the hopeful Japanese scene. Following the global Soviet pattern, they are promoters of unrest and enemies of healthy economic revival.

Risky as it may be in the explosive Far East, MacArthur's way is a language that Red gangsters everywhere understand. The methods of democracy they simply corrupt and distort to undermine democracy. They don't deserve its rights and privileges. They do deserve what MacArthur is giving them.

Not Too Late

By JOSEPH ALSOP from Washington

WE HAVE PERHAPS three or four years to enjoy ourselves, if we go on with business-as-usual, politics-as-usual and self-delusion-as-usual. The joyride, one hopes, will be very agreeable. But at the end will come a big bang, or more likely a small, self-pitying whimper. And our world, the free world of the West, will then come to an end.

Such is the best summary this correspondent can offer, of all the mingled experiences of a long expedition of inquiry abroad. It is offered despite a belief that, unlike Hitler, the masters of the Kremlin do not want a general war, because of the inner weaknesses of the Soviet system. The danger now, in fact, is much less a general war than an enormous surrender, which will give the Kremlin all the fruits of victory without a shot being fired.

ONLY A VERY SIMPLE act of imagination is necessary, in order to understand this danger which hangs over us. First, you must imagine a Soviet Union with its war preparations completed, having a substantial stock of atomic weapons, an impressive strategic air force, a vast army, and every other auxiliary of military power. Second, you must imagine that this great Soviet military power is confronted by a half-armed America, and above all by a Western Europe without serious defenses in the air or on the ground.

THIS WILL be the world rather soon, unless the Western nations take drastic measures to rebuild their defenses. Moreover, this intensified defence effort must begin at once if it is to show real results by the time of danger, 1953-54. No one should be misled on these points by the barrage of soothing lies about new weapons to be produced five years from now and so forth, that is emanating from the politics-as-usual experts in Washington.

The consequences of this new world situation — of unchallengeable Soviet strength confronting irredeemable Western weakness — are also mathematically predictable. After all, it is only a little more than a decade since Hitler took the Rhineland and Austria, the Sudetenland, Czechoslovakia and Danzig, without firing a shot. Hitler did all this simply by inspiring the terror that saps the will to resist. In the new world situation that is now arising, Western Europe in the Fifties will be Czechoslovakia in the Thirties.

EVEN NOW, the Kremlin strategists are already preparing for the time when, as they hope, they will be able to terrify Europe into submission. They are transforming the Western European Communist parties into simple paramilitary groupings, with the sole function of creating disorder and division at the most useful moment. They are using all means, like the "Partisans of Peace" with their terror propaganda about atomic warfare, in order to foster in Europe a mood of appeasement and submission. They will certainly create this mood, if the United States now abdicates as leader of the West in order to go on a joyride.

Our allies will then grow bitter against us. And we shall grow bitter against ourselves, as the real meaning of our act becomes apparent. The whole Atlantic alliance will be rent with recrimination and rendered impotent to act, even before the final crisis.

EVEN NOW, one can envision the form this final crisis may take. Assume that Western Europe remains defenseless and the existing deterrent, such as our strategic Air Force, are rendered ineffective by Soviet rearmament. If the present line is held in the Far East, the first move will then probably be a new Soviet blockade in Berlin. There will be no airlift to answer this blockade, because the Soviets now have the power to disrupt the airlift by radar-jamming. There will be nothing to do, except abandon the Berlin position, or send an armed convoy into the city, or threaten the Soviet Union with atomic bombs.

Anyone who recalls the first Berlin blockade, and the horrified response to General Lucius Clay's project for an armed convoy, can predict the future choice. The nations of Western Europe, in the very shadow of the new Soviet power, wholly open to Russian atomic attack, half-paralyzed by their sense of weakness and wholly alienated from the United States will violently protest against any "war-like" measures. Disunion will beget inaction, even in Washington.

AND SO THE crucial frontier posts will go — first Berlin; then Vienna (just to drive the point home); and then Yugoslavia (which the Kremlin can overrun without fear of general war, when the West is both feeble and disunited). These mounting demonstrations of Soviet strength and Western weakness will in turn beget new waves of defeatism and despair in the West. Somewhere, then, the front will break.

One cannot now foresee which of the Western allies will be the first to sign a "non-aggression pact" with Moscow; to introduce "democratic" elements into its government, and to adopt a policy of "neutrality," which will mean total disarmament. One can be certain, however, that this will happen. One can be certain also that if the front breaks anywhere, it will break almost everywhere. Eventually, then, while the voices of the appeasers sound louder and louder in Britain and the United States, Western Europe will be gobbled up.

THIS IS NO NIGHTMARE. This is what can happen, and what will happen if the United States does not quickly take the lead in a great effort to rebuild the defenses of the West. No one will be to blame but Americans, for no one else is capable of this taking the lead. And when they have let all this happen, they shall have to pay the price.

SECESSION IN SAANICH

The Minister of Municipalities has indicated that a new municipality is to be organized comprising Ward 6 and that part of Ward 5 north and west of Elk Lake.

There are property owners east and south of Elk Lake who are very anxious to be included in the new municipality and doubtless others south of the Observatory.

Farmers are too busy at this season to circulate another petition but could make time individually to register at some central point.

Before the Minister lays down a hard and fast southern boundary to the new municipality would it not be advisable for him to have a map made showing all the properties whose owners desire secession.

This might be taken from the signatures on the original petition on file or a registrar could be appointed to take new applications.

RUNNING THE COUNTRY

This is an indirect appeal to Canadian girls of high intelligence to take an interest in the affairs of government and fit themselves for government posts.

Too few in this generation and certainly among past generations of Canadian women, and Canadian men even more so, have qualified or are planning to become qualified for the task of running this country.

With due respect for the British lady, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, the Speaker of the House, her remark "Heaven forbid" to an American who asked her what she thought of Canada being taken over by the U.S.A. was not a pleasant one and not representative of Canadian thought.

No Canadian lady would make such a remark to an American neighbor, I believe. There are more courteous and truthful ways of stating, even on the spur of the moment, that it is not fitting for one country to take over another. The American's query was not more inaccurate, illogical or presumptuous than the contention of the British, and of Canadian, Empirists, that Canada is a "British nation." In the "British" Commonwealth—that the Union Jack in a new world nation or in any nation other than Britain is a proper flag.

S. F. S., Burnaby, B.C.

OTHER SOLUTION NECESSARY?

London (Ont.) Free Press
The British market has been valuable to Canadian farmers in the past, and may again in the future. But the method of securing a share of that market through bulk agreements seems of questionable value. The Winnipeg Free Press estimates that the wheat agreements cost the Canadian farmer $357,000,000. And the hope of a permanent hold on the British market was illusory. It looks as though some other solution of farm and food problems will be necessary.

INDIAN RIGHTS

Considerable publicity has been given to the introduction of an amendment to the "Dominion Elections Act" which would have given the Indians of Canada the right to vote in Federal elections.

By the news stories, Citizenship Minister Harris states that the Indian is exempt from taxation by Statute, and could vote only if he gave up his tax exemption. If this dispatch is taken at its face value, it is amazing news to all Indians who have been paying the usual income taxes all these years.

In the interests of correct public information, this aforementioned Statute states that "Indians are exempt from income taxes on all income earned on the reservation."

Any income earned off the boundaries of the reservation is taxed at the source in the usual manner. Considering the size and location of Indian reservations, there are very few Indians who could earn a living without leaving the reservation.

The only other tax from which the Indian is exempt is the land tax, as long as he continues to reside on an Indian reservation. Otherwise, he pays every other tax in the same manner as Canadian citizens, including the B.C. "sales tax" which is collected from all stores, even those situated on Indian reservations. The Indian receives no benefits from this tax, being a ward of the Dominion Government.

In summary, it means that 99% of the Indians in B.C. pay the usual taxes on all income earned off the reservations, and are subject to conscription in wartime—as though they were Canadian citizens.

For the enlightenment of the "Victoria commentator," all Indian villages are governed by elective councils, which in turn elect a chief councillor to be the titular head. These councils function with exactly the same aims and purposes of the average municipal council. The chief "whose word is law" no longer exists in B.C. any more than the mayor "whose word is law." With a little research, the "Victoria commentator" would have found out that chieftainships are both hereditary and honorary titles with the same intents and purposes as hereditary and honorary titles of the United Kingdom.

The Indian today is identical in every way with the Canadian citizen with whom he works to earn a living; and forms his opinions, political or otherwise, in exactly the same manner.

In this respect, the editorial of the "Victoria commentator" last Sunday night was very short on facts. If the Indian was not a thinking individual, he could not adapt himself to this world in which he lives. With better educational facilities the difference would decrease and possibly disappear in one generation.

BAD MANNERS

More accidents are caused by bad manners (which is bad driving under another name) than by any other cause.

IS THE citadel of communism beginning to get shaky?

Paul G. Hoffman, United States foreign aid administrator, voiced the belief before the state governors' conference at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., that tensions are building in Russia and her satellites. He said: "Once the Communist world starts to crack it can disintegrate very rapidly indeed."

That isn't a new thought for this column, but it's good to get the viewpoint of a high official whose business it is to keep a finger on the pulse of communism. Hoffman holds that "the free world can win out in this battle with the Kremlin."

"I am assured by the positive knowledge that tensions do build up in a dictatorship," he told the governors. "A dictatorship is only successful when it is dynamic and expanding. Once you stop that forward movement—and that we have had some success with—the mechanism is subject to strains."

"The very fact that Russia must hold between 12,000,000 and 15,000,000 of its citizens in forced labor camps is striking evidence of strain...."

The only places where communism has had marked success are where it has been backed by military force and secret police, the spread of the Redism hasn't been spontaneous, on the whole. It has been imposed, although it has had the support of fifth columnists among the citizens of the countries which it has absorbed.

Daily the evidence piles up of widespread revulsion against the Red rule in such unwilling satellites as Czechoslovakia, Poland and Hungary.

Meantime, as Hoffman says, "we have had some success" in stopping the forward movement of communism. As a matter of fact the Red advance has been halted altogether in Europe along the front formed by the satellite countries. Moreover, the gains achieved by the Communist parties in countries like Italy and France has been largely nullified. In the great industrial Ruhr of western Germany, where the Reds had shown much strength, communism took a beating in Sunday's election.

Small wonder then that the foreign aid administrator should find optimism in the situation.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN A. TOBIN

"PEOPLE" said the Elevator Man, "ask an awful lot of questions they don't need to ask. They will stand beside a bus stop with all the lines that come by there listed, and ask somebody if such and such a bus stops there. A fellow slips and lands on the ground with a thud. Somebody is bound to ask—'Oh, did you fall?' Or he stands in the hall and starts to put on his hat and coat. Invariably someone asks—'Are you going out?' If he's struggling in the water beside a wharf the first question is—'Did you fall?' A lot of us just can't trust our eyes, apparently. Words, words, words—they're the only things we believe, and they're the least trustworthy of all. Lower main!"

"It reminds me," said the Elevator Man, "of the old story of the train that came to a sudden halt one day, shaking up some of the passengers. Everybody wanted to know what had happened. 'Nothing much,' said the conductor. 'We hit a cow.' 'Oh,' said one old lady. 'Was it on the tracks?' The conductor looked at her. 'No, ma'am,' he said. 'We chased her into the barn and caught her by the tail.' But we don't need to be smug about that sort of thing. We're just as bad. Our neighbor at the counter sputters with pain over a mouthful of coffee. 'Too hot?' we ask. There's no end to it. Mezzanine!"

"It's funny," said the Elevator Man, "why we need all the verbal reassurance. More sensible people like Indians and Eskimos don't ask a lot of useless questions. They use their eyes, noses and other senses to get the answers. Civilized man forgets his tongue is for tasting—he'd rather use it to ask about the taste. But that way, most of the things he knows are second-hand."

THE HOME GARDEN

Zinnias Delight In Heat—Plant Them Now

By JACK G. BEASTALL
For the hot summer months a most satisfactory garden flower, and one which will give a blaze of color, is the zinnia. It is now available in all sizes from the tiny Tom Thumb varieties to the giant dahlia-flowered types. The color range includes many delicate pastel shades, brilliant orange and reds and the very deep purples. Zinnias may be easily grown from seed sown where they are to flower. An outdoor sowing, made now, usually germinates readily in the warm weather, the plants making rapid growth which often gets ahead of the earlier indoor sowings.

ENEMIES OF ZINNIAS

The two enemies of the zinnia seedlings are slugs and earwigs, and both may be controlled by their respective bait. The main source of trouble to the grown plants is damage by high winds. The hollow stems and heavy blooms of the large-flowered varieties are easy prey and a few strong gusts will ruin an entire planting. The solution, of course, is a sheltered location, although it must be sunny and the soil well fertilized and retentive of moisture. The plants will flower in partial shade, but the showing is not to be compared with a planting in full sun. The zinnia delights in hot weather and if you have a spot where there is warmth on the upper part of the plant, and abundant moisture to keep the roots cool, it will be ideal. Unfortunately, they cannot be recommended for exposed locations near the sea-front because the cooler temperatures retard the growth and wind protection is almost impossible. Excellent flowers may be grown in the greenhouse, and the crop is in full bloom in eight weeks from date of seeding.

Canada Quits Importing Ships From Other Lands

Clause In Shipping Act Amendments Erects Bar Except Against Britain

OTTAWA (CP)—To promote business for Canadian shipyards, the government plans to ban the import of ships built in the United States.

Transport Minister Chevrier disclosed to the Commons shipping committee Tuesday that that is the purpose of a two and a half line clause in a series of amendments to the Canada Shipping Act which already have passed the Senate.

The clause gives the minister power to bar from Canadian registry any ship built outside Canada. He said it was not planned to use it against shipyards built in the United Kingdom.

The objective, he told committee members, was to prevent Canadian ship operators from bringing in old U.S. tonnage—often "dilapidated"—for use on the Great Lakes and coasts.

While Mr. Chevrier did not tell the committee the purpose of this ban, he later told reporters the idea was to assist Canadian shipyards, which could be expected to fill orders for new vessels of the type now bought second-hand from the U.S.

Mr. Chevrier said that up to now the government had been unable to keep out the imports from the United States.

Though he was unable to say how much additional construction might fall to Canadian yards as the result of the move, the minister said there was a substantial amount of U.S.-built tonnage in the Canadian coastal and lake trade. Applications for the purchase of American vessels were being made every week.

Clarie Gillis, C.C.F., Cape Breton South, suggested before the committee that some restrictions be placed on the entry of British vessels into the Canadian coastal trade.

However, the minister said nothing could be done about this while the British Commonwealth merchant shipping agreement remained in effect.

CHATHAM, Ont. (BUP)—Two workers were catapulted to their deaths Tuesday when a 180-foot construction tower here collapsed.

The victims were 35-year-old Earl Ward of Blenheim and 37-year-old Frank Kennedy of Chatham. Alfred Bouley of Chatham, who was working at the 30-foot level, was seriously injured by a guy wire.

Appeal Trade License Rule; With Extra Legal Advice

The city will seek a motion for leave to appeal the judgment of Judge H. H. Shandley which ruled invalid the city's 1949 trades license bylaw amendment increasing revenue from fees from $150,000 to $200,000.

In a second motion passed at City Council meeting Tuesday, aldermen agreed to obtain outside counsel for their opinions on the question.

"If we lose the appeal, we'll really be in the soup," Ald. Waldo Skillings said. "I think we should get the best legal opinion possible.

"I don't know whether we'll be able to get outside counsel because the benchers are a closed corporation. I make this motion but I fear we will be turned down."

The city's present situation resulted from a lawyer, J. R. McIlree making a test case of the city's right to raise the fees.

"I don't think there is any doubt of our grounds to appeal from the information I have received," Ald. Harold M. Diggon said.

Garage Closing By-Law Slates Two Types Service

A new early closing by-law for gasoline service stations, regulating classes of service to two only, will be drawn up by City Solicitor Arthur Patton, on instruction of City Council at its meeting Tuesday.

At the same time, council rescinded a former motion delegating authority to designate 24-hour stations to the chief of police or his deputy.

Heading a delegation from the Garage and Motor Trades Association of B.C., Victoria Branch, J. C. Hawkes, chairman of the by-laws committee, read a brief, recommending two types of service, either from 8 in the morning until 6 at night or 24-hour service.

Speaking on behalf of 75 per cent of the licensed operators, Mr. Hawkes said the association did not favor a midnight closure as sought by some businesses.

If some were allowed to stay open until midnight, the association believed no station would then remain open on a 24-hour basis, and the public would not be accommodated as demanded by the by-law.

The fact that only two classes of service were allowed would be an inducement to some stations to elect to stay open on a 24-hour basis, Mr. Hawkes said, as the hours from midnight to 8 in the morning were costly for all-night operators.

Letters from Olson Motors Ltd. and Olympic Garage asking for midnight closure for their businesses, were received and filed over the negative votes of Aldermen William Pinfold, Waldo Skillings, Mrs. M. Christie and Frank Mulliner.

Ald. Skillings contended those seeking midnight closing should be given an opportunity to present their views to council as the association had done. Ald. Pinfold said council's purpose was not to fill the request of any particular group but to decide what was best for the city as a whole.

Prepare Financial Statement To Aid Metropolitan Area Considerations

A financial and statistical statement to aid the intermunicipal committee when considering the whole question of a metropolitan area will be drawn up, aldermen agreed at City Council meeting Tuesday.

The city's internal auditors, Ismay, Boiston, Dunn & Co., were requested to prepare the statement in conjunction with the city comptroller and city engineer.

Tender of C. J. McDowell to supply and install a hot water heating system in No. 3 fire hall for $1,530 was accepted.

Council agreed to purchase a special type stretcher, a Dunn, at a cost of $212. The stretcher will aid the fire department in cases where injured persons must be brought down from heights.

Final payment of $3,533 on an arena contract was paid C. J. McDowell Plumbing and Heating Ltd., following a report of the city solicitor that a bond was filed by the company and found in order.

Council passed a special standing motion of regret on the death of John McNutt, who was killed instantly at Dallas Road seawall, now under repair by the city public works department. A letter of condolence was sent to the bereaved family.

Victoria delegation to the U.B.C.M. convention will present a resolution from the Greater Victoria Teachers' Association asking that teachers be allowed to hold office on municipal councils.

Council To Investigate May Festival's Deficit

City Council will investigate a reported $5,000 deficit of the Greater Victoria Celebrations' Association over the May 24 festivities.

At a meeting Tuesday, Mayor Percy George struck a special committee to confer with the May 24 celebrations' committee, in order to "bring out all the facts, examine the balance sheet and see if there is a solution."

Action followed reading of a letter from Reeve A. I. Thomas, chairman of the association, asking permission, on behalf of the directors, to sell associate membership tickets on the streets as a means to meet liabilities following the festivities.

The tickets would entitle the member to participate in "benefits and activities of the association."

The letter brought to the surface several "questions" which have been smouldering in civic circles for weeks, both before, during and after the celebrations, with Ald. Waldo Skillings leading off.

"What are the activities?" he queried. "Do they intend to have a draw?"

"Under what auspices would they budget expenditure of $14,600 with only $6,000 on hand. It seems a very unbusinesslike method to me."

Reeve Thomas, Monday, explained that the $14,600 budget was cut when it was found there would not be sufficient money. He said sale of booster buttons was far below what was expected and there was "passive resistance" from the general public all along the line.

Ald. Skillings wanted to know if it was "sound business practice" for the association to maintain a paid secretary on a 12-month basis for one holiday in the year.

"Under what conditions did our city clerk, Frank Hunter, resign from the association?" he asked.

PROTESTS, RESIGNS

"Mr. Hunter was one of the prime movers in this association when it was first started. They disregarded his warnings this year before the celebrations and, in protest, he resigned."

Ald. Skillings said taxpayers' money was involved and they had a right to know what was going on.

Ald. Harold Diggon urged that council see the balance sheet of the association and find out how and where the money went.

"Council has contributed a considerable amount of money for the May 24 celebrations and this has got to come out. It is a question of whether the celebration is for one day or five and if we are not overstepping."

"It is a question whether we can afford a five-day celebration," Ald. Diggon continued. "It is not a Mardi Gras as they hold in some cities."

Ald. Charles Banfield said last year $21,500 was collected for the celebrations with a $3,000 surplus.

Senate's Hottest Debate On War Supplies Bill

Charge P.C.'s Tried To Force Conscription Brings Warmest Exchange Of Session

OTTAWA (CP)—Charges that the Progressive Conservative Party attempted to force conscription in the Second World War plunged the Senate Tuesday into probably its hottest debate of the session.

The charges by Senator Arthur Roebuck (L.-Ontario) ended in a verbal tussle between Senator Roebuck and Senator R. B. Horner (P.C.-Saskatchewan).

For the first time in weeks Senate Speaker Elie Beauregard called for order as crossfire erupted on second reading of a bill to give Trade Minister Howe power to stockpile war materials and take other independent steps for Canadian defence.

Senator John J. Haig of Manitoba, Progressive Conservative leader, led a parade of opposition speakers against the measure, termed "dictatorial." Liberal Senators replied and one—Senator Vincent Dupuis (L.-Quebec)—said the next war probably would start "with an atomic bomb" and there would be no time to call Parliament to put the country on a war footing.

Senator Iva Fallis (P.C.-Ontario) and Senator Horner took exception to Senator Roebuck's charge about the Progressive Conservative attitude on conscription. Senator Horner demanded a withdrawal, but none was forthcoming.

CALLED SLANDER

Later Senator Horner, obviously incensed, termed Senator Roebuck's charge a "base lie" and a "slander."

Called to order, he was asked to withdraw his remark.

"I'll withdraw when he does," retorted Senator Horner and sat down.

The bill was given second and third reading along with measures consolidating the military codes of the armed services and bills to amend Canada's Citizenship Act and approve new Canadian-United States taxation agreements.

Senator Wishart Robertson, government leader, in moving second reading of the defence supplies and projects bill noted that Canada at present is living in peace. But she was "by no means free from the threat of aggression."

Senator Haig protested that the bill made "one man all-powerful." He believed the minister should get the approval of the cabinet and possibly Parliament itself because "war is not going to come that quick."

Senator T. A. Crerar (L.-Manitoba), a one-time Liberal cabinet minister, supported the opposition. He did not see any immediate prospect of war and was against concentrating power in the hands of one man in peace-time.

Vote On By-laws, Reeve Gibbs Urges

Reeve P. A. Gibbs of Oak Bay Tuesday night called upon citizens of the municipality to "get out and vote" Saturday when two money by-laws are put before the people.

One is for approval of $100,760, Oak Bay's share of the $966,400 required by the Greater Victoria Board of School Trustees to complete its building program in District 61.

The other by-law is for $50,000 to improve street lighting.

Under it, intensity of existing light would be tripled. If approved, the municipality will have 436 lights of 2,600 lumens, 187 of 3,700 lumens and 39 of 3,900 lumens.

SEDITIONARY CONSPIRACY FINDING AGAINST VERIGIN, ASSISTANT

NELSON (CP)—Michael (the Archangel) Verigin and his aide, Joe Podovinkoff, were convicted Tuesday night of seditious conspiracy. More charges are to be heard.

Verigin is the leader of the Sons of Freedom Doukhobor colony at Hilliers, on Vancouver Island; Podovinkoff is his secretary.

An assize court jury convicted them on the charge, which could mean a possible two years in jail, after deliberating 70 minutes.

They were remanded for sentence. Hearing of another charge against Verigin—conspiring to burn the community hall at Brilliant—began today.

The conspiracy charges take in conspiring to encourage Doukhobors to disobey the laws of Canada, to assemble when nude, to refuse to send their children to school, and to commit adultery.

MANCHESTER DEFEATED BY SWEDISH AMATEURS

CHICAGO (AP)—The Jönköpings, Sweden's leading amateur soccer team, Tuesday defeated Manchester United, one of England's top professional teams, 3 to 1.

The Manchester team closed a 12-game tour of the United States and Canada, during which the squad won eight games, tied two, and lost a previous decision to an English international team in Toronto, 4 to 2.

The Swedes will play the English international team at Montreal Thursday. On June 25 the Swedes will play a team at Toronto.

Aces Nip Cabbies In Stirring Rally

Brentwood Aces took advantage of the tiring Charlie McKay of Bluebird Cabs to score two runs in each of the eighth and ninth innings and defeat the Cabbies, 5 to 4, in last night's Senior Softball League game at Central Park.

Bill Benn singled after two were out in the bottom of the ninth with Killebrew on third and Hal Yardley on second, to score the winning run.

For McKay, the workhorse of the Cabbies mound staff, it was a tough decision to lose. He pitched excellent ball for seven innings and the one run 'Aces' picked up in the second inning was unearned.

Brian Sluggert started on the hill for the suburbanites, but went out under fire after the Cabbies reached him for three straight singles in the sixth. Furstman came on to snuff out the rally, but not before three runs had come in, to give Bluebirds a 4 to 1 lead.

In the bottom of the eighth the pesky Hal Yardley, who is very adept at getting on base, picked up his second hit of the night. Bill Benn walked, and both runners moved up on Furstman's single.

It was a 4 to 3 ball game, and after the losers went down in order in the top of the ninth, Aces pulled the game out of the fire with their stirring rally.

Tonight at 6:30 the second-place Chinese Students have a chance to close the gap between themselves and first place when they tangle with the league-leading Douglas Tire mine.

Short score follows:

Bluebird Cabs	4	7	4
Brentwood Aces	5	8	2

C. McKay and Collins; Sluggert, Furstman (6) and J. Turner.

Knott Hurls 5-Hit Victory

Ron Knott returned to the softball was last night, and as far as Hudson Lumber were concerned they would have been just as pleased if Knott had stayed at home.

All the veteran right-hander did was to set the lumbermen down with five hits in hurrying Yarrow's to an 8 to 1 victory and pick up three singles in four trips to the plate.

That result, combined with Garrison's 1 to 0 triumph over West Heat, enabled the Yarrow's and the soldiers to gain on Navy, league leaders in the senior B men's race.

Garrison are now three and one-half games behind the tars, and Yarrow's five.

Tonight, Yarrow's will meet Mooneys at Bullen Park.

THIS CLUB LITTLE KNOWN

Local Dog Obedience Training Group Grows From Modest Start

A little known organization in the city is the Greater Victoria Dog Obedience Training Club.

Born with the idea of helping "man's best friend" fit easily into the life offered it and become a companion rather than just a "dog," such obedience clubs are quite popular in the United States and England.

The local movement in this regard began about a year ago with 12 enthusiasts. But the results of such obedience classes were so gratifying that soon registered dogs were taking part in Canadian Kennel Club obedience trials at dog shows.

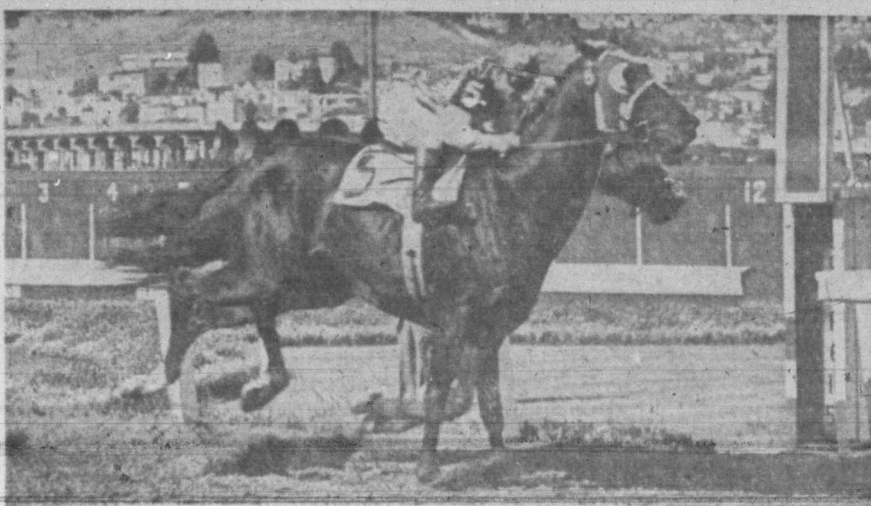

The club, which had a modest beginning and used a field on Topaz Avenue for its initial classes, had a total of 75 dogs pass through the classes last year. And where the owner worked faithfully there were no failures.

THREE DEGREES

In these classes dogs are put through three degrees before certificates are issued. And each degree must be passed three times.

The first such degree is "Companion Dog," a basic training for all dogs and one designed to make dogs better citizens and owners more conversant with the ways of dogs.

The second degree is "Companion Dog, Excellent." This adds retrieving and jumping with

Third Straight Triumph

The late Charles S. Howard's Irish-bred Noor (outside), with Johnny Longden aboard, grabs the third straight win over Calumet's Citation (nose showing on rail) in winning the $10,000 Forty-Niner Handicap at Golden Gate Fields in Albany, Calif. Noor, coming from last place, overtook Citation in the stretch to set a new world record for the mile and one-eighth in 1:46 4-5.

Newcomer Joey Culmone Making Strong Bid For Jockey Honors

NEW YORK (UP)—Joey Culmone, who was shot by a German soldier in Sicily a few years ago for refusing to stop, is traveling faster than ever today and leads the 1950 jockey standings with 151 winners.

The soldier, one of a group of four, shot Culmone through the knee because he didn't understand the German order to halt. Joey's older brother, watching from a window in the Culmone farm house, save the youngster for a U.S. riding career by killing the Germans with a burst of machine-gun fire.

Culmone, now a 19-year-old apprentice, did his first riding at small town fairs in Sicily. He came to America in 1946, knowing plenty about horses but no English. He rode his first U.S. winner at Monmouth Park last June and finished 1949 with 49 victories out of 432 mounts.

He really hit his stride this season. Besides his national lead, he is tops at the current Delaware Park meeting with 20 winners.

Old pros like Ted Atkinson, Eddie Arcaro and Johnny Longden were quite a few winners' circles behind Culmone but Frank Bone, another young apprentice, was close behind with 149 winners.

Veteran Hal Keene was third with 138 firsts and Willie Shoemaker was next with 133. Shoemaker, now riding at Golden Gate on the west coast, made the biggest gain during the past few days. He had four winners last Friday and four more Saturday.

Rainiers Edge Portland Club

Seattle made the Coast League season's first stop at Portland yesterday and emerged with a 4 to 2 victory that left them only a bare percentage point out of sixth place.

Frank Colman's first-inning three-run homer was all the Rainiers needed. Hector Brown, Seattle's starting hurler, got credit for the win.

Hollywood's Art Schalkoff tossed a five-hitter at the San Francisco Seals, beating them 2 to 1 for his first victory this season.

Seattle's lineup was:

Brooklyn Regains Undisputed Lead

Yankees Within Game Of Top-Place Detroit

Joe DiMaggio owns 2,000 big league hits and Stan Musial has 1,500.

Each slugger attained his immediate goal last night but DiMaggio was the more self-satisfying.

Joe's two hits drove in three runs and led the New York Yankees to an important 8 to 2 triumph over Cleveland Indians. The victory, coupled with Washington's 4 to 2 triumph over Detroit, boosted the runner-up Yankees to within one game of the American League-leading Tigers.

Stan slammed one hit—a home run—but it didn't prevent New York Giants from gaining their first victory of the season over the St. Louis Cardinals, 3 to 2.

The defeat knocked the Cards out of a first-place National League tie with Brooklyn. The Dodgers thrashed Cincinnati Reds, 8 to 2, to take a game lead over the Redbirds.

Boston's Red Sox and Philadelphia's Phillies, third in their respective leagues, gained some ground. The Red Sox won over Chicago White Sox, 5 to 3, while the Phils topped Pittsburgh Pirates, 7 to 3.

St. Louis Browns, behind Ned Garver, shut out Philadelphia Athletics, 1 to 0, and Chicago Cubs won a 10-inning struggle over Boston's Braves, 4 to 3.

PAIR OF BLOWS

Needing two hits to become the third active major leaguer to reach 2,000 hits, DiMaggio singled with the bases loaded in the third inning. He singled again in the seventh to drive home his third run.

Joe thus joins 41-year-old Luke Appling of the Chicago White Sox and 40-year-old Wally Moses of the Athletics as the only active performers with 2,000 or more hits. Appling, now in his 20th season in the majors, owns 2,733 hits. Moses, in his 16th year, has 2,664. DiMaggio, 35, is in his 12th active year.

Ty Cobb, one of baseball's immortals, holds the record for base hits with 4,191 in 24 years.

Little Chico Marrero stopped the Tigers with four hits in registering his second decision over them.

George Kell extended his hitting streak to 20 straight games, doubling in the second Tiger run in the eighth.

Brooklyn collected only six hits against three Cincinnati hurlers, but half of them were home runs. Gil Hodges came, with the bases loaded, to highlight a six-run third inning. The Dodgers have hit homers in 14 straight games.

A'S KEPT IDLE BY RAIN; PLAY TWO TONIGHT

Tacoma Suffers Fifth Straight Loss To Yakima

Yakima, bolstered by a first-inning triple play and Nini Torrey's ninth-inning double, eked out a 9 to 8 victory from Tacoma last night to move within two and a half games of the Western International League leaders.

The defeated Tacoma Tigers now have lost five games in a row; Yakima, defending champion, boasts a six-game win streak.

The victory put the Bears in second place, half a game ahead of Wenatchee. The Chiefs were made idle by wet grounds in their scheduled home fray with Spokane. Rain also canceled the Victoria at Tri-City duel. Both plan twin bills tonight.

Dewey Soriano, Yakima club president, made his second appearance of the season on the mound and was credited with the victory. Soriano went into the game in the seventh to halt a three-run rally that pushed the Tigers ahead 8 to 7.

Vancouver moved out in front of Salem 3 to 0 after three innings, thanks to Reg Clarkson's triple and home run. But the Oregonians bunched eight of their 16 hits into the next three frames to score eight times. Mel Wasley clouted a three-run homer for Salem in the fifth.

Jockeys, Trainers Draw Suspensions

TORONTO (UP)—Two jockeys and two trainers were indefinitely barred today by the Ontario Racing Commission for misconduct during racing at the Thorncliffe track.

Suspended from all provincial tracks were jockeys C. E. Bright and V. Polk and trainers A. Grafagnini of New Orleans, La., and W. Russell of Toronto.

No details of their alleged infractions were released by the commission, but they were accused of "conduct prejudicial to the best interests of racing."

City Tennis Champion Bows Out Of Club Meet

City champion Ron Mitchell became the first main casualty in the current Victoria Lawn Tennis Club championships Tuesday when he bowed before Darryl Thompson, nationally ranked badminton player.

Thompson, a temporary resident of the city, ousted Mitchell, second seeded in the tourney, 6-4, 12-10, after being down 5-3 in the second set.

Third-ranked Jack Millledge gained the quarter finals with a 6-3, 6-1 triumph over Dr. John McPherson. In the only ladies' singles match Anna Peden advanced to the semifinals with a 6-1, 6-2 decision over Karen Jorgenson.

Veteran Carl Brand and Millledge won five straight games in the third and final set to defeat Thompson and Bill Dye in a thrilling men's doubles match, 6-0, 7-9, 6-3. Defending champions Bill Dunbar and Jack Parker moved into the semifinals.

FROM THE FANSTAND

By PETE SALLAWAY, Times Sports Editor

Attendance throughout the Western International Baseball League is up 25,000 through games to June 1, according to a report made to the directors at their meeting in Tacoma Monday. This is cheering news in view of the general dropping off of patronage in majority of leagues in organized baseball. Wenatchee and Tacoma are the two cities mainly responsible for the increase. Both are operating under revised set-ups this season and apparently the fans are appreciative of the new deals.

Spokane Takes Beating

Only sour note in this year's attendance outlook is the beating being experienced by Spokane. For years the Indians have set the attendance pace for the seven other clubs in the circuit, but things are different, and according to business manager Reg Patterson of the Victoria Athletics the Spokane management are really "mousing the blues."

Failure of the Spokane club to draw is not surprising. Owner Roy Hotchkiss and manager Alan Strange have put together a rag-bag ball club. The team lacks good ball players and in the opinion of many experienced observers throughout the league will wind up a bad last unless strengthened considerably. As one rival manager put it: "Strange has put another Bremerton club into Spokane." Bremerton finished dead last in the 1949 campaign.

W.I.L. May Move Up To A

Don't be surprised if the class B W.I.L. decides to move up to an A classification within the next year or so. The idea got a good talking over again at Monday's session and right now it would appear at least half of the clubs in the league favor the plan.

"We are paying class A salaries now and our allowances for meals and hotel are better than those paid in most of the A circuits," one team official said. "Why kid ourselves," he continued, "We are actually a class A league calling ourselves B."

Should the W.I.L. move up into A the salary limit would naturally be increased, but to offset this would be the higher price received for players drafted. Teams in A class are permitted to carry 18 players on their roster, one more than in B.

Shamrocks Pull Weight

Victoria Shamrocks are more than holding up their end financially in the Intercity Lacrosse League but the same cannot be said for the clubs on the mainland. To date the local club has not cleared its expenses on a single trip to Vancouver or New Westminster. In the majority of cases their 25 per cent cut of the net gate has been a mere pittance. On the other hand the mainland teams playing here have come awfully close to breaking even on each trip. It costs a team approximately $200 to make the trip.

Under such conditions it is easy to see why the Intercity League was so anxious to get a Victoria entry this season. It was their one chance to inject new life into the loop. Attendance figures for games on the mainland have been dropping off tremendously the last two or three years. Big hope of the Shamrocks to get in on the big money will be for the club to make the playoffs. Finals on the mainland always draw big houses.

Mary Grund In One-Hit Chore

With Mary Grund hurling one-hit ball, Red's Service last night defeated Toppers, 3 to 2, to move into the runner-up spot in the Women's Softball League.

The garage femmes now trail league-leading North Saanich by one game.

Marion Chorney and Yvonne Chalmers hit home runs for the winners.

Games tonight find Moose journeying to Sidney to meet the undefeated North Saanich nine and Adverts tangling with Allsorts at lower Central Park.

Short score of last night's game follows:

Referee Gets Tough On Being Attacked

MONTREAL (CP)—France's Laurent Dauthuille earned a sixth-round technical knockout over Costa Rican Tuzo Portuguez here last night. The decision may wind up in a courtroom.

Dauthuille, who, referee Leo Fisher claimed, was the victim of low blows, was awarded the bout at 1.38 of the sixth round after he had his opponent on the ropes for 30 seconds of free-bellering. But manager Allie Zack claims that the referee "was too hasty and didn't take into consideration Portuguez' style of fighting."

Dauthuille, who weighed in at 159½ against Portuguez's 160½, was on the receiving end of four low blows in the fifth round which almost ended in a Donnybrook before the issue was settled by the referee.

SAVAGE ACTION

A crowd of 7,000, which contributed a gross gate of $19,289 for the 10-rounder, was brought to its feet in the last two savage rounds as the fighters blazed away, toe to toe.

The near-Donnybrook occurred when Fisher took the fifth round from Tuzo because of low punches. The Costa Rican, who does not understand English, attacked the referee, hitting him several times in the face. Fisher retaliated with a couple of bare-knuckle rights that cooled off Portuguez.

The crowd swarmed around the ringside, waiting for the Montreal Boxing Commission to take action, but Referee Fisher called for the fight to continue.

Following the bout Portuguez manager said he was considering taking court action against Fisher for awarding the fight to Dauthuille. He said, "At no time was Portuguez in trouble. It's his (Portuguez) style to absorb punishment and then come back on the offensive."

Promoter Raoul Godbout said the referee's action "leaves good reason for a rematch."

Strengthened Shamrocks To Test Salmonbellies

Shamrock coach Arnold Ferguson plans no change in his high-scoring first-string forward line for tonight's Intercity League game with the Salmonbellies at the Memorial Arena, but he does think the second attacking unit will be greatly improved with the addition of Tom Druce and Andy Ovcharick.

Both Druce and Ovcharick are big men as lacrosse players go and teamed with Darrell Popham and Larry Booth this should give the club a rugged foursome up front.

Booth will centre the unit with Popham and Druce on the wings and Ovcharick at rover. Len Scott and Red McMillan will form the defence unit.

The first-string line which ranks as one of the best in the league will find Art Green at centre, Duff McCaghey and Ed

Ferguson will start at one defence post with either Norm Coates or Al Denoni at the other rearward position. Coates will play if his injured toe has responded to treatment, otherwise it will be Denoni.

Steve Rynoski will be used in a utility role.

League starts between the clubs this season.

Norm Allen, former member of the Canadian Legion senior B provincial championship club, is the guiding light behind the veterans.

Preceding tonight's Intercity game will be a junior league contest between Pro Patria and Selkirk Jokers at 7.

Pro Pats last year represented the city in the provincial junior playoffs losing out to the mainland champions.

However, Selkirk Juniors under the able handling of Kenny Banks have won both to take a 14 to 1 lead in the third quarter but Arkays rallied to tie the score and then pulled away with seven goals in the final stanza.

The result tightens up the league race considerably, only six points separating the last-place Richmond squad and the pace-setting Indians.

Motorboat Rules Put In Amended Act

By GORDON E. LEIGHTON

OTTAWA—That the Government does not intend to cover the whole field of motorboat regulation in the amended Canada Shipping Act introduced Monday was stated by the minister of transport.

Some thought has been given to the licensing of outboard motors and the bill provides regulations may be drawn in that respect should it be advisable. But representations that parliament should enact a motorboat act along the lines of the U.S. act had not proceeded beyond consideration, the minister further declared.

Intended also to permit the formal approval by government of the International Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea, drafted in London in June, 1948, the amendments are necessary to replace those provisions of the convention of 1925.

Much subsequent discussion is anticipated when the amended bill comes before the House committee on railways, canals and telegraph lines for detailed consideration. H. C. Green, (F.P.C., Vancouver-Quebec) indicated there would be specially close observations of the proposals respecting radio-telephony.

Under the proposed amendments such systems of communication or radio-telephony, must be installed in cargo ships of 500 tons or more. Hitherto the safety regulations had been a radio-telegraph system on ships of 1,600 tons or more.

FINGERPRINTS DON'T LIE

THE STORY: Private detective Martin Queripel is trying to clear Paul Moody, a young sculptor, of charges in the murder of Wendell Palmer, father of Moody's fiancée Azalea Palmer. Fingerprints on the base of a telephone used to bludgeon Palmer to death were believed to be Moody's until Queripel shows police detective James Stivers that Moody's had been substituted for those of the real murderer during the police investigation of the crime. Queripel and Stivers now have gone to Palmer's home to make a further check. Queripel is certain the real murderer is Pete Kelso, another police detective.

Police Detective Stivers still couldn't see what had happened to the fingerprints he had taken from the telephone base and Martin Queripel began to straighten him out. He pointed to those marked "telephone base."

"Somebody lifted your labels from the telephone prints and stole the original fingerprints. Then he pasted your labels on the faces you lifted from one of Paul Moody's bronze statues," Queripel explained.

"Who on earth could have done it?"

"Don't ask me. Tell me," Queripel demanded. "Who was with you at the Palmer home? Who was with you at the Moody studio?"

"Only Pete Kelso. But—"

"Was he ever alone with the prints?"

"No-o-o—yes! I went upstairs to Moody's living quarters and worked there awhile. I left Kelso downstairs in the studio with my kit. But what reason would Pete Kelso have for changing the prints?"

STRONG MOTIVE

Queripel let him have it: "What reason would any murderer have for stealing the prints that proved his guilt?"

Stivers gaped like a man hit in the midriff. As soon as he could catch his breath he gasped:

"Good lord, Queripel, you don't mean to say that Kelso—that Kelso—killed Wendell Palmer?"

"Somebody crushed Palmer's skull with the bloody base of that telephone. The man who did it left his fingerprints on the base. Your prints eliminate Moody so far as his ever wielding that telephone base as a weapon. But somebody did. The weapon did not kill alone."

Stivers groaned as Queripel went on:

"Cheer up, man. You did your work perfectly. But you couldn't be expected to distrust another member of the police force. Yet it's the old Latin saying all over again. 'Who will guard the guards?' We have guardians, and most of them are willing to risk death at their task. But you can't guarantee that all of them will or that all of them are honest. The very honesty of the honest ones works to protect the crookedness of the crooks."

From his utter misery Stivers spoke:

"You're accusing Kelso of murdering and of destroying the evidence against him. That's a pretty serious charge, Queripel. You haven't an iota of evidence against him."

NEW START

"That's all too true," said Queripel. "You've got to start all over and get it."

"But how? Where?"

"I'll admit the trail is pretty cold by now. Kelso probably destroyed the prints you took from the telephone, if my theory is correct," said Queripel. "But when you collected your specimens from the Palmer home, did you take any from the back doors or window sills or other places the killer might have entered?"

Stivers sighed. "Of course not," he said. "I suppose you'll think I'm a poor cop. But the case seemed open-and-shut shortly before the discovery of the crime. Kelso brought in the names and addresses of several people who had seen him enter."

"Kelso! Kelso!" snapped Queripel. But he didn't condemn Stivers as a "poor cop." Queripel himself, from the newspaper accounts, had at first believed in Moody's guilt. Who would doubt the evidence of fingerprints? "But," Queripel went on, "the killer might well have slipped in the house by the back way, or come through the cellar door, or climbed over the window sill. You naturally assumed he came in the front door. But assuming is dangerous."

Poor Stivers nodded and tossed his hands in helplessness. His pride had suffered in his fall. Queripel revived him with a word:

"What would you say to our going out to the Palmer place and giving it a real going-over?"

RENEWED HOPE

Detective James Stivers leaped to his feet with a renewal of life and hope and self-respect. From his chief he quickly obtained permission to complete the checking of the Palmer home for prints.

Indeed, Stivers was furnished with a key to the front door, since the house had been locked up and more or less sealed after the first debris of the murder had been removed. Azalea Palmer had been taken away from the gruesome evidences by her friend Nadine Fennell and was now living with Nadine's parents in their apartment.

Because there was no police car available, Queripel took Stivers in his own machine. They parked the car at a distance from the house.

It was Martin Queripel's first visit and the huge Palmer home seemed to him to be something like a mausoleum when he first walked into it.

But Queripel brushed aside this feeling and in another moment he was a detective again.

Shirley Temple Own Boss, Happy Picking Her Roles

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Shirley Temple now is her own boss.

The 22-year-old former screen moppet ended her contract with producer David O. Selznick and now will make her own decisions. It is the first time she has been able to decide her film fate.

"I've read six scripts in two weeks," she crowed. "I'm having a lot of fun."

From the age of four, Shirley has always had her scripts picked for her. She reigned as the crown princess of 20th-Fox for nine years and brought in millions for the studio.

$65 VOTED FOR REPAIRS

The Victoria Gyro Club has voted to give $65 to the repair of the club-sponsored cabin, at Sunshine Camp, in the Sooke foothills. The club will have redecoration and general repairs of the cabin unit made.

Her box office began to drop when she outgrew the "cute-little-girl" roles and in 1941 she parted with the studio. After a couple of pictures for M-G-M and Edward Small she signed with Selznick.

The producer brought her back to popularity as a snappy young woman. The parting was friendly.

I asked her what kind of pictures she wants, now that she is a free agent.

"Anything with a good story," she answered. "I've never found two that I like . . . and there is a chance I may play a Japanese girl in a picture for an independent producer."

She disclosed she had an offer to sign a term contract with Warners. She turned it down.

Shirley appeared to be enjoying her romantic independence as well. Her boy friend from Hawaii, Charles Black, is in town and they are still dating.

TAKEOFF MADE IN 1,000 FEET

EDMONTON (CP)—First plane of the R.C.A.F. equipped with Jato (jet assisted takeoff) motors, a search and rescue Dakota took off from the Edmonton airport Tuesday after only a 1,000-foot run down the runway. The plane normally requires 3,000 feet.

Piloted by Flt. Lt. Robert Christie of Ottawa, the aircraft was being tested in an acceptance flight before being put into service.

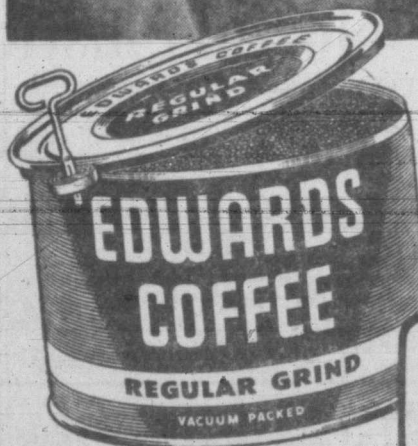

Percy Wright Hurt

W. Percy Wright, assistant city clerk, who regularly reads all correspondence at the City Council meetings, was absent from his post Tuesday, following an accident.

Council expressed its regret. Mr. Wright fell while playing baseball and fractured his elbow.

on the TIMES

By ARP STOTT

IN THE DAYS of the old Pantages circuit, a so-called comedian would occasionally rush onto the stage in front of the curtain to yell "There's a doctor in the house!" His hope was that a young man, fresh out of college, would rise from his seat and acknowledge his profession. Then came the punch line: "Hiya, Doc." Crude humor, but it got a laugh.

They're still calling for doctors, calling them from dinner engagements, cutting them from dances and ball games. That doctor's wife story isn't the fiction some people may think it. Only nowadays the call is a little more scientific. The phone book indicates the system. Under your physician's name and number is the terse instruction: "If no answer, call Doctors' Directory." That's the thing to do when your favorite medic has tried to take an evening off just when the "little stranger" decides to jump the gun, when Minnie falls down and breaks her leg, or when junior swallows a marble.

IT'S QUITE A business, this Doctors' Directory. On Nov. 1 it will be 20 years old. When it started, 10 men in the profession used the service. Now the membership is about 100. It wasn't an entirely new idea when Mrs. E. M. McNaughton introduced it to Victoria. The system was in operation in Seattle, Montreal and Winnipeg, as well as other larger centres.

Personal experience convinced Mrs. McNaughton of its possibilities here. One Sunday afternoon in 1929 she needed her doctor, and needed him badly. She phoned his home repeatedly and received no answer. "It just happened that on that afternoon her physician had decided to take a few hours off. She realized that other people must often be in the position in which she found herself — almost frantic with anxiety at one end of a telephone that kept ringing but went unanswered at the other.

MRS. McNAUGHTON interviewed medical men in the city, offering them a 24-hour telephone answering service which she was prepared to operate from her home. The idea took and the business was born.

Now her professional clients, when they take time off — and a doctor, oddly enough, needs sleep and recreation — telephone her, say where they may be reached by phone in cases of emergency, and know that their telephones won't ring futilely while they're away.

The service works this way: If a patient wants his doctor and the doctor isn't in, he calls the directory. Except in those rare cases when the physician has absent-mindedly forgotten to report his whereabouts, the operator knows his whereabouts. If it's an emergency, she can usually trace him. If he's out fishing or away from town, she knows his covering doctor and contacts him at the patient's request. At the same time she gives a little reassurance to the person placing the call. That is often as good a tonic as the medical man prescribes.

THE JOB CALLS for courtesy, diplomacy and efficiency. These are the commodities the directory has to sell. On a Sunday or holiday the operator may average 150 calls, some of them tracers to find the absent medic. Her contact with the profession has given Mrs. McNaughton a high regard for the standards and ethics maintained here. Even during wartime, when about 30 doctors only were covering the area, the directory helped to maintain a remarkable service to the public. It was an effort in which the V.O.N. played a substantial part, too.

Since the merger with the Telephone Answering Service, a more recent development, the organization has engaged a staff of six operators. That's quite an advance since the Doctors' Directory managed to crack the hard shell of conservatism here.

THE GIRLS HAVE to have good, clear voices. They must be courteous and quick. They have to remember that the customer's always right. They're voices with brains behind them. It's no job for the beautiful but dumb.

What holds for the Doctors' Directory applies to the Telephone Answering Service. That's an amazing personalized secretarial-office service that has more to do with a lot of Victoria businesses than most people realize.

There isn't much time for the "Hi, zat you Myri?" conversations on the two position board now operated by the combined services. There's too much business. It's still growing. Right now it's a cradle-to-the-grave proposition — hatches by the doctors who are members, despatches by an undertaker who also subscribes with a group between.

Fly To Mainland Convention

Specially garbed in British-type caps, carrying umbrellas and displaying large placards publicizing the city, scores of members of Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce left by chartered plane today to host other chambers at luncheon at national junior chamber convention in Vancouver. Group will return to the city early Thursday morning, following wind-up of three-day convention.

Naval Veteran To Rebuild Resort Wrecked In $20,000 Fire At Sooke

By ROY THORSEN

In less than 90 minutes wind-fanned flames did $20,000 damage Tuesday night, demolishing three main wooden buildings of the Grouse Nest summer resort perched on the rocky shores of East Sooke.

No persons were injured in the spectacular blaze. Excellent work of B.C. Forest Service crews prevented the spread of the fire to the timberland surrounding the resort layout.

The fire completely destroyed the main two-story lodge, its joined single-story annex and a combination garage and home which housed over Roderick Knight, five-year naval veteran, and his family.

"I'm going to rebuild as soon as I can but this has killed business for this year," said the Second World War R.C.N. executive branch lieutenant. Damage was only partially covered by insurance.

Eighteen guests were waiting for the second call for supper in the lodge at about 6.45 when the fire broke out in the boiler-room. In a short time the lodge and annex were a flaming mass and the flames whipped over to engulf the Knight home a few feet away.

FLATTENED TO GROUND

The picture this morning was everything flattened to the ground except two lodge chimneys. A third was blown over by the wind, which was strong, and quickly spread the fire to trees in the immediate vicinity. In the ruins were twisted remains of beds and springs, bathtubs, plumbing and water pipes. The heat was so terrific it melted glass.

Armed only with watering hose and fire extinguishers, Mr. Knight, his helper, Roy Wilson, and other willing hands could not check the fire.

J. E. Henderson, Shirley, district forest ranger was on hand in 14 minutes and joined efforts to quell the fire. Forest service crews led by John Greenhouse, Langford, came in several trucks and a pump to provide water.

The forestry men did a splendid job of confining the fire," said Constable Malcolm Matheson of the Sooke B.C. police detachment.

Seven resort cabins strung along the rocky shoreline escaped damage in the fire, "but with the lodge gone there is nothing left to service them with," said Mr. Knight. The recreation hall and barn were also saved.

GUESTS HELPED

Mr. Knight, who saw war service in England, Scotland and Halifax during the war, had praise for the manner in which the guests helped salvage work.

He said they dragged articles of furnishings thrown out of windows out of danger. Guests were mostly from Victoria and Vancouver. Just prior to the fire the proprietor brought in three guests from Vancouver. Some were still in the cabins today.

Forestry men cut down flaming trees to stop them from starting other trees on fire. The C.N.R. sent along a crew with a big water tank to protect the big trestle over the property.

Cause of the fire has not been determined. There was a sawdust burner in the boiler room. The owner thought the paint on the shingles helped to spread the fire.

The resort was formerly operated by John Knight, father of the present proprietor. The naval veteran's wife, Isabelle, operated while Roderick was away on war service. They have two children, Gerald and Elizabeth.

FINED $5

Pleading guilty to a charge of failing to pay hospital insurance premiums, Herbert C. Baker, 717 Pandora Street, was fined $5 in city police court today.

Apple Crop May Drop By 23 Per Cent

A 23.34 per cent decrease in B.C. apple crop is predicted this year by the department of agriculture.

The crop last year amounted to 8,632,576 boxes and this year it is expected to be 6,618,020 boxes.

The drop is in the main growing area, the Okanagan, where severe temperatures last winter played havoc with all types of orchards.

The Okanagan crop last year was 8,020,696 boxes and the expected crop this year is 5,939,420 boxes, a decrease of 25.95 per cent.

Increases are expected in the Kootenay, from 517,785 boxes last year to 575,600 this year; Fraser Valley from 73,478 boxes to 80,000, and Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands, from 20,617 to 23,000 boxes.

Hardest hit in the Okanagan were orchards of McIntosh apples, Jonathan, Rome Beauty, Delicious, Newton, Stayman and Winesap. Increases are forecast in the Duchess and Wealthy varieties.

OTHER FRUIT

On other fruit, Okanagan ranchers hope for big increases in crabapples, black currants and cantaloupes. Decreases are expected in pears, plums, prunes, cherries, peaches, apricots, raspberries and grapes.

The picture on Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands in connection with other fruit looks bright for growers of pears, strawberries, loganberries, black currants and gooseberries.

Drops are expected in Island crops of crabapples, plums, prunes, cherries, raspberries, blackberries and grapes.

Clothesline Thieves Busy

Victoria's clothesline thieves are making the rounds again. Two residents of the 2200 block on Victor Street reported to city police today that articles had been stolen from their clotheslines during the night.

Roy Edwards, 2245 Victor Street, reported the loss of a grey gabardine shirt, and Mrs. Doreen Turkington, 2241 Victor, said a yellow nylon sweater, a man's white sweat shirt, and two pairs of underpants had been stolen.

Wilful Damage To House Nets $40 Fine

Marjorie Preston, no fixed address, was fined $15 or in default, five days in jail in city police court today for wilful damage to the home of F. Huber, 810 Penwell Street, last Saturday. Magistrate H. C. Hall also fined the woman $25, representing the amount of damage to the house, or in default, 10 days.

Many New Wonder Drugs Hold Promise Of Remarkable Cures

Canada, U.S. Spending Millions On Heart Disease, Cancer, Arthritis

Many new wonder drugs will be available within the next 10 years, according to George A. Bender, Detroit, Michigan, editor of Modern Pharmacy, who is attending the three-day convention of the Pharmaceutical Association of British Columbia which opened at the Empress Hotel today.

Mr. Bender said research laboratories throughout United States and Canada were spending millions of dollars on new drugs which may be the answer to heart diseases, cancer and arthritis.

"In the past decade we have made tremendous advances in the field of pharmaceutical research," he said. "These include the sulfa drugs, the antibiotics, many synthetic chemicals."

He stated that 54 per cent of the drugs in use today were virtually unknown 10 years ago, and predicted even greater advances during the decade to come.

Referring to the future of the drug business, Mr. Bender said in his opinion pharmacists would continue to increase during the next 10 years.

GROWING MARKET

"The tremendous increase in population in recent years and the likelihood that the trend will continue indicates a steadily growing market of people with money to spend," he said. "I feel that the drug business is assured of its share of this increasing consumer dollar."

The convention's first business meeting opened this afternoon with a presidential address from J. P. Kennedy.

Annual reports were submitted by A. F. McDuffee, registrar and treasurer; E. W. Hazlewood, finance committee; D. J. Brown, educational committee; Dean E. L. Woods, College of Pharmacy, University of British Columbia.

The meeting also heard an address from A. A. Brown, executive secretary-treasurer, Canadian Foundation for the Advancement of Pharmacy, Toronto.

Remand Given To Young Albertan On Fraud Charge

H. Blakeney, pleading guilty to a charge of obtaining $25 through a worthless cheque, was remanded in custody to Thursday morning in city police court today.

J. J. Proudfoot, counsel for the accused, pointed out it was Blakeney's first offence. The accused, whose parents lived in Alberta, was a young man who came to the coast with the prospects of obtaining employment on a commercial fishing vessel, Mr. Proudfoot said.

It was obviously a case of a man running short of funds and not stopping to think of the consequences, Mr. Proudfoot continued. He said Blakeney had been offered employment on a fishing vessel scheduled to leave here Friday.

INADEQUATE BRAKES

Driving with inadequate brakes, resulting in an accident last Friday cost Edward Wallis, 354 Carrie Street, $15, in city police court today.

Police Seek Youths

Provincial police still are searching for youths who rifled clothes and money from a parked car at Theft, Lake Monday night.

Three youths were picked up by Saanich police after B.C. police alerted all municipal departments, but later were released for lack of evidence.

Merry-Go-Round Of Prices
For Fruits And Vegetables

By PENNY SAVER

Bibbity, Bobbity, boo! Guess what I saw in town today. Seedless grapes! Now there's a little gem you can contentedly chaw away on without worry of clamping your teeth into a hard bitter seed. The grapes debuted at 55 cents a pound but were down to 45 pennies today.

Local strawberries have taken their 35 cent price tags down and put up a neat 30 cent sign, much to everyone's delight. One store even had strawberries sitting spanking clean under a cellophane cover for the same price and amount.

If you plan to preserve apricots this year, best you make tracks to town while they're 25 cents a pound... four pennies more will buy you a pound of delicious red plums... 29 cents will also buy you a pound of gooseberries.

Green peas, tempting local beauties I mean, not the half hearted efforts that were gracing a number of counters, are yours at a pound for 25 cents... solid heads of lettuce, 40 cents each... new potatoes still tipping the scales at 5 pounds for 25 cents... cabbages, 2 heads for 25 cents... asparagus, 26 pennies per pound... cucumbers 12 cents each and radishes a nickel a bunch, that goes for green onions too.

Tomatoes were being displayed at various prices this morning. From 39 cents to 35 cents for the larger varieties, and 25 cents for the smaller ones... spinach, in bulk you can take home 2 pounds for 21 cents... or, all washed and ready to pop into a saucepan, at 16 cents a package.

Cantaloupes from Yuma, the tastiest in town this season, selling for 23 cents each... watermelons are sitting on their 8 cents a pound laurels... Mexican oranges, possibly not wearing the smartest looking jackets but chock full of juice, 49 cents the pound... Arizona grapefruit, 4 for 27 cents and the all-time favorite, bananas priced at 20 cents a pound.

In a 1 pound package, black cooking figs sell for 18 cents and in the 2 pound pack, 35 cents. White cooking figs are priced at 26 cents a pound.

Corn was on the counters again this morning but still at 30 cents a pound... beets and they're large now, 11 cents a pound... rhubarb, 2 pounds for 11 cents... and green peppers, they're so good with oil and vinegar, 41 cents a pound.

By the way, apricots by the crate will cost you no less than $2.69, at least I couldn't find them for less.

DOROTHY DIX

Dear Miss Dix: We are a poor couple who are being eaten out of house and home by week-end guests. In addition, my husband has been sick and I am far from strong and we can't afford either financially or physically to entertain this crowd of deadbeats. What can we do?

DISCOURAGED

Answer: Just write the chief offenders a little note and tell them that while you are sorry not to have them any more, you are simply in no position to run a free hotel. They will be furious, but you should worry over being rid of a lot of parasites.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRID

CHILD LEARNS TO ENJOY
RIDING IN EASY STEPS

Some babies do not seem to enjoy riding in a carriage or car and cry, instead of falling asleep, as is the more common response to motion.

A mother, aged 17, writes, "I have the baby with me so much of the time, that I want her wherever I go. The baby is six months old and weighs 20 pounds. But he cries whenever I take him visiting. He cries when he is in his carriage. I would like to take him out in the afternoon, but he is always crying. I sit him up in his carriage, I lay him down, but he continues to cry. How can I make him stop acting this way? Here is his diet for the day: Morning: cereal, orange juice, fish oil, egg (every other day), fruit and milk. Lunch: fruit, vegetables, soup and milk. Supper: cereal, meat, fruit and milk. He goes to bed at six o'clock and sleeps until six the next morning. But he naps only one and one-half hours outdoors in his carriage in the morning. I want so much to take him for an airing."

It might be better for his disposition if he had his one nap a day right after his noon lunch instead of in the morning. The interval between morning and six o'clock is too long and the baby is tired when you take him out.

Also, you may dress him all up when he goes out and, being tired, he resents the dressing, or even the type of clothes you put on.

Our leaflet No. 22, "Formulas and Early Feeding," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldrid in care of this newspaper.

Mothers' Union, meeting and social afternoon, Thursday at 2.30, Memorial Hall. Members each to bring a friend.

INSTITUTES CAMPAIGN

LONDON (Reuter) — About 4,000 British women came to London from the countryside recently to demand a "new deal" for the English village — everything, in fact, from new sewers to the extermination of midges.

Representing more than 7,000 women's institutes in the hamlets of England, and Wales, they crowded London's vast Albert Hall in an annual meeting of the national federation, to plead for improved conditions in their communities and maintenance of the traditional pattern of British country life.

BAPTIST CONVENTION

Home And Foreign Mission Reports Show Progress In All Departments

"Progress has been reported from many of our mission churches, with increased attendance in a number of Sunday schools," Mrs. N. Phillips said in her annual report at the 36th annual convention of Baptist Women's Missionary Society of British Columbia yesterday afternoon at First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Phillips reported a new mission at Westminster Heights. In the foreign field, Mrs. Phillips spoke of the Southern Cross radio, air voice of Baptist workers "and our own station," the jubilee fund in India and appointment of the first Telugu missionary to the Aruku, Mr. Victor Joseph.

During the past year Mrs. Smith reported keener and more concentrated study being made of home and foreign mission work, renewed interest in White Cross and more women concerned about work in India, Bolivia and at home.

In social service department, Mrs. Smith reported Baptist Women's Missionary Society has been opposing opening of liquor stores in suburban areas, opening of cocktail bars and sale of beer and wine in cafes; have been assisting new Canadians and sending food and clothing to D.P.'s in concentration camps in Germany, programs and gifts to Okalla Prison, visiting the sick and lonely and meeting needs of people who need practical assistance.

IN HUNTER'S BAILIWICK

Honeymoon Bay Cougar Walked Into Deathtrap

HONEYMOON BAY—Charlie March, a farmer who has bagged more than 50 cougars in his lifetime, did not have to go far afield to get his latest.

It was shot near his home after his dogs had attacked the animal in his barn.

Mr. March arrived on the scene just in time to see the end of the battle between his dogs and the cougar. One of his cougar dogs, Jiggs, was hanging onto the tail of the animal. The cougar escaped in the woods. Accompanied by R. R. Melville, Mr. March with his dogs kept on the trail of the animal which was discovered to be too weak to climb a tree. It took refuge under some old logs. It was shot.

Examination of the male cat showed that it had not eaten for several days.

Mr. March surmises that the animal came to his farm in search of food because game was scarce. He says it might be possible that the cougar was partially blind and was forced by its disability to hunt for easier prey.

Lumber Price Boost Undue Says City Council Protest

The boost of $26 per thousand board feet in the price of lumber drew the ire of City Council at its meeting Tuesday with a resolution of protest forwarded to provincial and federal governments.

Ald. Charles Banfield moved the resolution which considered the increase undue and detrimental to local consumers and the public at large.

He said it was a fine thing to have an export trade, but that a few people were shipping away the province's natural resources.

"Let us see if we cannot stop skyrocketing of lumber prices," he said.

B-A Guarantees ITS NEW 88 and 98 GASOLINE

B-A laboratories absolutely guarantee its newly developed and perfected 88 and 98 gasolines. At no time in the history of B-A has such a fine, high octane gasoline been produced. Forty years of constant research have resulted in B-A 88 and 98 gasolines. New B-A 88 gasoline for excellent performance with economy. New B-A 98 gasoline for peak performance in any car.

Mr. M. S. Beringer, Vice-President-Manufacturing, says:

"As a result of the great progress made in the last decade in petroleum technology, we as refiners are able to meet the challenge created by motor engineering developments. Using the most successful of the new refining techniques, we have been able to produce gasolines which will keep pace with automotive design trends for years to come. We believe they are the best gasolines you can buy."

R. F. A. Smith, Refinery Manager, says:

"This new refinery we've just completed is not only one of the biggest gasoline producing units in Canada, it's one of the most modern in the world. I've been in the gasoline business for over 15 years and I've seen a lot of gasolines. But I've never seen anything like these two new gasolines our great expanded refinery is producing. You'll see the difference in your car's performance too."

D. L. Campbell, Manager of Refineries, says:

"We have recently completed the construction of a great new plant, designed and erected with only one object—to produce the highest quality motor fuels. We are convinced that your use of these gasolines will convince you that we have achieved our objective."

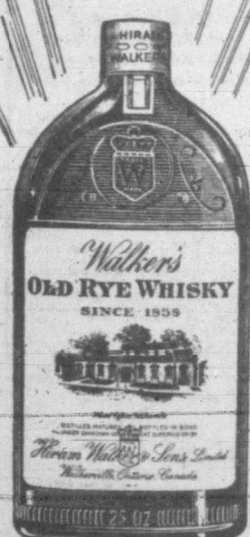

R. E. Irwin, Chief Chemist, says:

"These fine new gasolines have been laboratory and road tested at every stage of manufacture. They will give your car greater control of power, at both high and low speeds, than you have ever before experienced. We commend them to you with our unqualified approval."
